

Order execution policy

Under the rules of our regulators, the Guernsey Financial Services Commission (GFSC), the Isle of Man Financial Services Authority (IOMFSA) and the Jersey Financial Services Commission (JFSC), we are required to put in place an order execution policy (the policy) and to take all sufficient steps to obtain the best possible result for our customers either when executing customer orders or when receiving and transmitting orders for execution. The purpose of this document is to provide information on our Order Execution capabilities. This Policy applies in respect of orders executed on behalf of Canaccord Genuity Wealth (International) Limited's (CGWIL) or (We) retail and professional clients. The basis on which those orders are then executed by CGWIL is as set out in this Policy. CGWIL agrees, when executing orders on behalf of clients, to obtain the best possible result after taking into account the various components of the transaction. This Policy sets out the execution factors and the primary execution venues CGWIL will use when executing orders.

This document should be read in conjunction with our Terms of Business for Retail clients.

1. Obtaining the best possible result

Subject to any specific instructions that may be given by you, when executing orders on your behalf, CGWIL will take all sufficient steps to obtain the best possible result for clients using its judgement and experience in light of market information available to it and taking into account the execution criteria and execution factors listed below. We may either execute orders directly or use a third party to execute orders on our behalf.

2. Execution criteria

When executing an order on behalf of clients, CGWIL will take into account the characteristics of:

- (a) the client
- (b) the order
- (c) the financial instruments that are the subject of the order
- (d) the execution venues to which the order can be directed.

3. Execution factors

- 3.1 The following factors will be taken into account when executing an order.
 - (a) Price
 - (b) Size
 - (c) Likelihood of settlement (executing and settling the trade)
 - (d) Speed and success of execution, e.g. time zone
 - (e) Minimising potential market impact
 - (f) Nature of the order
 - (g) Cost
- 3.2 CGWIL will take into consideration all the execution factors to achieve the best possible overall result for the clients. Price and the likelihood of settlement will have a high importance in the execution process so CGWIL is not likely to deal with counterparties or use execution venues where it believes that settlement will not take place. In some circumstances, CGWIL may determine that the relative importance assigned to the above execution factors will need to change in order to obtain the best possible result for clients. Consequently, due consideration will be given to the circumstances of the client, order, financial instrument and/or market on a case by case basis.

4. Execution and trade venues

- 4.1 CGWIL has a due diligence and approval process for counterparty selection, as well as the ongoing monitoring process to ensure counterparty risks are minimized. The criteria used by the dealing desk when selecting a venue will depend on the nature of the trade and the characteristics of the venue. When selecting venues, the execution factors mentioned above will be taken into account. However, we may place orders using electronic means where, at the time of placing, we will not be aware of the venue.

The main venues that we place significant reliance upon can be found below but we may use additional venues where we feel it appropriate.

UK shares (and dual listed shares whose primary listing is in the UK)

We trade with most LSE members to access the relevant liquidity pools. CGWIL may also deal with firms that are members of a recognised exchange but will be acting as Systematic Internalisers and such trades will be treated as Over the Counter (OTC) transactions.

- 4.2 Access to all primary and secondary liquidity venues, dark pools and MTFs on all major markets.
- 4.3 CGWIL may, at its discretion, use other venues if we believe that it is in the best interests, as far as the overall result is concerned, of clients to do so.
- 4.4 Some bond products may be executed OTC (Over the Counter). This may be due to the lack of liquidity or the absence of a regular market quote or data. These trades can be difficult to price due to the lack of liquidity or the frequency they are traded. They will be traded, firm to firm, rather than on a trading venue. We will always endeavour to execute orders in the client's best interests. Where CGWIL undertakes OTC transactions we will check the fairness of the price proposed by reviewing market data available.

4.5 In some instances, we may execute off exchange transactions in securities which are normally traded on a market which is either a regulated market, such as the London Stock Exchange or another market, called a 'multilateral trading facility' (MTF), such as the Alternative Investment Market ('AIM') or an 'organised trading facility' (OTF). Where we do this, the trade will not be subject to the rules of any formal exchange, this reduces the level of investor protection provided by those exchanges. Off exchange transactions are either done where we believe that the overall outcome is better for the client or where dealing on a formal exchange is not possible. We may use other secondary venues including dark and lit execution venues as well as algorithmic trading strategies if we believe that it is in the best interests, as far as the overall result for all clients, to do so.

4.6 Please note, should you give CGWIL specific instructions as to the execution of an order to undertake on your behalf, CGWIL will execute the order strictly in accordance with those specific instructions. This may prevent CGWIL from taking the steps set out in this Policy to obtain the best possible result for the execution of that order.

Where your specific instructions relate only to part of an order, CGWIL will continue to apply this Policy to that part of the order not covered by those specific instructions.

5. Reception and transmission of orders

Subject to any specific instructions that may be given by you (see above), we may transmit an order that we receive from you to another entity within the Canaccord Genuity group of companies (of which we are a member) or to an external entity, such as a third-party broker, for execution. In doing so, we will act in your best interests and consider the execution factors and execution criteria described above.

6. Fees and Commissions

CGWIL may charge a commission or fee to the client for the provision of its services. When charging the commission or fee, CGWIL must apply the principle that all fees charged should be fair, reasonable and justifiable. What will be considered fair, reasonable and justifiable will differ from order to order, depending on the type of client, the order (e.g. size) and the financial instrument involved. Guidance shows that a fair, reasonable and justifiable fee would be one that reflects the actual differences in cost incurred by the firm from one executing venue to another. Where there is more than one competing venue on which to execute an order, CGWIL's commissions and the fees for executing that order must be taken into account when assessing and comparing the results that would be achieved for a client by executing the order on each of those execution venues. However, CGWIL shall not structure or charge their commissions in such a way as to discriminate unfairly between execution venues.

7. Aggregation of client orders

We may aggregate your orders with other client orders where we feel it is necessary to do so in order to obtain the fairest overall result for all clients involved, for example in the case of placings and IPOs, or where we are executing client orders in bulk. We have an allocation policy in place to ensure that fair treatment is given to all client orders in such instances. Orders which have been aggregated are usually executed pro-rata but may vary if in the interest of the individual orders. The overriding principle is that fair allocation is given to all orders received.

8. Market hours

We will only accept client orders during our official working hours of 8.00 to 17.00 on UK trading days. Market hours may of course differ from these, depending on the asset being traded. Orders placed outside of these hours will be actioned on a best endeavours basis.

9. Monitoring

CGWIL will monitor the effectiveness of and its compliance with this Policy.

10. Review

- 10.1 CGWIL will review at least annually its order execution arrangements and this Policy, and whenever a material change occurs that affects its ability to continue to obtain the best possible result for clients it will adjust them accordingly.
- 10.2 CGWIL will notify you of any material changes to these execution arrangements or this order Policy. Such notifications may be by means of our website.
